

The $6,500 bike looks like a banger with 150mm of rear travel, FOX's Float CTD Factory Kashima shock with AUTOSAG, a 150mm-travel RockShox Pike RC fork and a SRAM XO1 1x11 drivetrain with custom carbon cranks. It also features Shimano XT brakes, a Roval wheelset and Specialized's Command Post IR internally routed dropper post.

Though the company has yet to release info on other models it's a safe bet this is the first of many 27.5ers they'll roll out this year. Also likely—a line of Roval 27.5-inch aftermarket wheelsets and more models of tires.

Photo Thumbnails (click to enlarge)

